INSTRUCTIONS

1. Dust off the bowls with a dry Hydra Art Sponge.
2. Using a Fan Brush, paint 2 coats Cashew Later on the pedestals of the bowls. While still wet, use the round brush with Crackerjack Brown to add darker streaks to the pedestals.
3. To simulate two scoops of ice cream, take a #2 Pencil and lightly sketch a wavy line to divide the area above the "cone" painted in step two.
4. On the big sundae bowl, use the Fan Brush to apply 3 coats of Pink-A-Dot above the pencil line. On the small sundae bowl, use the Fan Brush to apply 3 coats of Aqu-ward above the pencil line.
5. Using a Script Liner Brush or Round Brush, add Hot Tamale spots to the pink as "chunks of strawberries". Repeat this step using Brown Cow on the smaller bowl over the Aqu-ward glaze, as "chocolate chunks".
6. Use a Script Liner with Crackerjack Brown to add cross hatching on the pedestals of both bowls to give it a waffle cone effect.
7. Use Old Lace to add wavy lines to the unpainted area below the Pink-a-Dot (large bowl) and Aqu-ward (small bowl) for a scoop of vanilla ice cream. Paint a few Old Lace drips on the waffle cone pedestals. Repeat this step on both bowls.
8. Paint 2-3 coats of Java Bean to the inside of both sundae bowls. Paint a few drips over the rim to create the look of hot fudge.
9. When the Java Bean glaze inside the bowls is dry, use a Round Brush to paint 2 coats of Old Lace in the center to simulate whipped cream.
10. Mix Old Lace with Cashew Later and use a Script Liner brush to add some swirly ripples in the whipped cream.
11. With an assortment of rainbow colored glazes, use a Script Liner brush to add sprinkles all over the "hot fudge" in both bowls. Apply 1-2 coats for sprinkles over dry hot fudge.
12. Paint a Hot Tamale circle on top of the whipped cream area on both bowls to create cherries.
13. Using a Script Liner Brush with Java Bean, paint the indent at the top of the cherries and a stem and add Old Lace highlights to the cherries. Let the bowls dry completely.
14. Clear Glaze, and Fire to Cone 06. Enjoy!
